

ProAssurance Risk Management...2008

The company will offer risk management seminars for both physicians and practice managers.

These highly regarded informative programs have helped keep healthcare providers up to date with the latest risk management concerns.

Attendance at the company's two hour physician program will result in continuing medical education credits and a 5% premium credit.

The live two hour seminars will be scheduled for the second quarter of 2007 in Merrillville and in the third quarter of 2007 in Valparaiso.

In addition, we anticipate that the company will again offer the unique practice managers risk management seminar in Merrillville in the second quarter.

Attendance at this two hour meeting, by the practice manager, will result in an additional 2% premium credit for each physician in the group assuming that 50% or more of the physicians also attend the physicians risk management meeting.

We now await announcement of the dates and enrollment advice.
